Entry of the Flags

The flags of all nations which have taken part in the Games of the XVI Olympiad are carried into the arena. Every flag is preceded by a standard bearing the name of its country. The order of the parade is the same as that at the Opening Ceremony, the Greek flag leading and the Australian flag bringing up the rear, with the other flags, in alphabetical order of nations, according to the English language, between.

The standards and flags line up before the Royal Box, the flag-bearers move forward and form a semi-circle around the Rostrum at the outer edge of the track. The entry of flags is accompanied by music from the massed bands of the Australian armed services.

Closing of the Games

The President of the International Olympic Committee, Mr. Avery Brundage; the Chairman of the Organising Committee, the Hon. W. S. Kent Hughes; the Lord Mayor of Melbourne, the Rt. Hon. Sir Frank Selleck; and Mr. E. von Frenckell, representing the City of Helsinki, where the Games of 1952 were held, advance to the Rostrum.

To commemorate the Greek origin of the Games, the Greek National Anthem is played by the massed bands as the Greek flag is hoisted on the right-hand staff of the three staffs which have been used in the Victory Ceremonies.

The flag of Australia, country of the host city of the Games, is raised on the central staff and the National Anthem is played.

The Italian National Anthem is then played as the Italian flag is hoisted on the left-hand flagstaff to signify that the XVII Olympiad will be celebrated in Rome in 1960.

Mr. Brundage pronounces the closing of the Games of the XVI Olympiad from the Rostrum in the following words:

"In the name of the International Olympic Committee, I offer to Her Majesty the Queen and to the people of Australia, to the authorities of the City of Melbourne, and to the Organising Committee of the Games our deepest gratitude. I proclaim the closing of the 1956 Olympic Games and in accordance with tradition, I call upon the youth of all countries to assemble in four years at Rome, there to celebrate with us the Games of the XVII Olympiad. May they display cheerfulness and concord so that the Olympic Torch may be carried on with ever greater eagerness, courage and honour for the good of humanity throughout the ages."

The President of the International Olympic Committee hands to the Lord Mayor of Melbourne for safe keeping the Olympic flag of embroidered satin, which he receives from Mr. von Frenckell. This flag, which was presented in 1920 by the Belgian Olympic Committee, will be retained by the civic authorities in the City of Melbourne until the Games of the XVII Olympiad are celebrated in Rome.

A fanfare of trumpets is sounded.
The Olympic fire is extinguished.

A salute of guns is fired.

The choir sings the Olympic Hymn as the Olympic flag in the arena is lowered.

March Out of the Flags

To the music of the massed bands, the flags of the competing nations are borne out of the arena. The flag of Australia is followed by the Olympic flag.

The choir leads the singing of the Song of Farewell as the Olympic flag is borne away.

The National Anthem is played.

Song of Farewell

(Specially written for the occasion of the Closing Ceremony of the Olympic Games, Melbourne, 1956, by William Fairbairn.)

*Homenoia, homeward, now you will be going now;
Munak wongga an go-yai,*
Joy of our meeting, pain of our parting,
Shine in our eyes as you bid your good-bye.*

REFRAIN

*Good-bye, Olympians; good-bye, Olympians.
(Oh comes the evening, west goes the day.)
Roll up your swags and pack them full of memories,
Fair be the wind as you speed on your way.*

*Blessings attend you, Fortune befriend you,
All good go with you over the sea.
May the song of our fathers—"Will ye no' come back again?"
Sing in your hearts then the years yet to be.*

REFRAIN

*Come to Australia, back to Australia
(Aye on the hills and the sun breaking through)
With the sliprails down and the billy boiling merrily,
Wide open arms will be waiting for you.*

* Aboriginal words meaning "Farewell, brother. By and by come back."

At the close of the song, the band will lead into the chorus of Will Ye No' Come Back Again? The words are:

*"Will ye no' come back again,
Will ye no' come back again,
Better loved ye cannot be,
Will ye no come back again?"*

"I Rest The Name Olympia"

THE COVER: Front, Right—The Victory Gold Medal 1936 (obverse). Left—The Opening Ceremony, November 22, 1936, with the teams in the parade order of their entry.

THE OLYMPIC OATH

We swear that we will take part in these Olympic Games in the true spirit of sportsmanship and that we will respect and abide by the rules which govern them, for the glory of sport and the honour of our country.

The athletes of sixty-seven nations subscribed to this solemn oath in the arena of the Games of the XVI Olympiad on November 22.

Today in leaving the arena those who have fulfilled their oath call the youth of the world to hand on the obligation of the oath as the vital spark of the Torch which is carried from generation to generation to illumine the path and fire the successors of these new champions to new achievement.

THE RACE IS RUN

The 1936 Olympic Race is run. May all who have been present go forth to their homelands and may the Olympic spirit go with them.
